Agenda

Program Across the world, mobile telephone service providers have been upgrading their radio and switching infrastructure to support high speed mobile data services. As consumers we see this marketed to us with service names like "Sprint Vision" or "Verizon Wireless Express" or "AT&T Wireless mLife." This talk gives an overview of the technology, discusses interoperability with Wireless LAN HotSpots, and offers a survey of the applications, focusing on the technical, economic and market challenges that engineers face.

Speaker Jack Kozik is Director of the Network Services Architecture Department in the Mobility Solutions Group of Lucent Technologies in Naperville, Illinois. His organization is responsible for planning the evolution of Lucent's Mobile Network Services products. Recent areas of focus include interoperating Cellular network services with IP services and the evolution of prepaid services. He holds three patents in the areas of mobile network security and Internet telephony. Jack received his BS degree in Computer Science ('79) and an MS ('81) in Electrical Engineering, both from Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana, USA.

Regular February Meeting Preview

With the major power outage that affected a large part of the northeastern portion of the US on August 14, 2003, the RRVS Executive Committee felt that it would be of interest to section members to hear additional details on issues that were responsible for the it, as well as what the risk is in the future for a similar event, especially in the Midwest. This meeting is still tentative.

November Meeting Recap

NIU Professor Don Zinger gave a talk on wind power at the joint RRVS section-NIU student branch meeting held at the NIU Engineering Building annually in November. Don spoke about the environmental benefits of wind power as well as some of the technological hurdles. Don has personally been involved in developing computer models of wind power systems in order to simulate operation to guide design and development activities.

Keep PACE

The Professional Activities Committees for Engineers (PACE) is a grassroots network of IEEE volunteers and committees organized at the section and chapter level in the United States with support from their respective regions and the IEEE-USA. The PACE Network promotes the professional interests of IEEE's U.S. members and provides a mechanism for communication of members' views on their professional needs.

The Rock River Valley Section PACE chair, Paul Hofmann, is coordinating a number of PACE activities in the next couple of months. They include National Engineers Week (beginning Feb 23), US First Robotics Competition (Jan 10 thru Feb 24) and a dinner meeting with US Representative Donald Manzullo (Feb 18) sponsored by our RRVS section.

Please consider participating at these events. Contact Paul Hofmann at 815-226-3876, Larry Wachowiak at 815-226-5147 or Neal Clements at 815-226-6182.
